

By sponsoring Musical Echoes, you provide the support necessary to continue this unique event that has been a part of the fabric of Fort Walton Beach since 2001.

The Musical Echoes Native American Flute Festival is...

- A three day event held at the Landing in Fort Walton Beach with the Santa Rosa Sound as the backdrop. The serene view combined with the sound of the Native American flute is sublime.
- A festival which is attended by many out-of-town visitors and locals alike who come to experience Native American Arts and Culture. It provides a glimpse of our history and heritage, preserving it in the hearts minds of everyone who attends.
- Free! The festival is a family- friendly, alcohol-free event enjoyed by all ages. Visit arts and crafts vendors and interact with the artisans. Enjoy traditional Indian Fry Bread and other delicious food. Learn to play a Native American flute.
- A place to experience exceptional performances by talented dancers and outstanding musical artists. Enjoy traditional Native American dance and storytelling by amazing dancers in beautiful Native American regalia. Listen to the unique sounds of Native American flute music and vocal performances by highly and internationally acclaimed musical artists.
- An opportunity to engage with artists and performers. Take pictures and get autographed CD's.
- Enter your work in the Musical Echoes Festival Flute Makers or Art Competition. All competitors must be present as they are recognized at the festival. Prize money is awarded to the winners.

Musical Echoes Flute Festival, Inc. is a 501 (c)3.
